Getting the Pieces to Fit

Welcome to Getting the Pieces to Fit ("Pieces"), the handbook for state, school, and national NSNA leaders.

Pieces can be used in the following ways:

- As a guideline for starting and strengthening an NSNA chapter.
- To assist with management of school and state chapters.
- As a reference for NSNA Bylaws and Code of Ethics.
- To apply for NSNA constituency status.
- To find out when NSNA events take place.

One of the most important items in Pieces is the Official Application for NSNA Constituency Status, on pages 38-39. Constituency status entitles constituents to:

- Delegate representation in the annual House of Delegates with voting privileges.
- Submit resolutions to the NSNA House of Delegates.
- Enter NSNA's many contests. (See NSNA's Awards and Honors booklet under Publications, www.nsna.org.)
- Affiliation with the largest nursing student association in the United States and national recognition.
- Access to NSNA Programs and Activities.

The online constituency application must be:

- Completed online annually before Delegate credentialing at the NSNA Annual Convention, or no later than 10 days after the close of the Annual House of Delegates meeting. The 2022 House of Delegates ends on April 9, 2022.
- If your school or state is not an official constituent, contact NSNA.

Section I Introduction to NSNA

Membership Requirements

There are four categories of NSNA membership: active, associate, sustaining, and honorary. Only active and associate members have privileges of membership and the right to voting representation in NSNA's House of Delegates.

Active members are students enrolled in state-approved programs preparing for registered nurse licensure or registered nurses in programs leading to a baccalaureate in nursing.

Associate members are pre-nursing students enrolled in college or university programs who are taking the prerequisite courses designed as preparation for entrance into a program leading to an associate degree, diploma or baccalaureate degree in nursing, are eligible for associate membership. Associate members have all the privileges of membership, but they cannot hold the office of president or vice-president on the state and national levels.

Sustaining members are individuals and organizations not eligible for active or associate membership, interested in the development and growth of NSNA. They receive NSNA publications and a reduced registration fee at NSNA functions.

Honorary membership, NSNA's highest honor, is given upon recommendation of the NSNA Board of Directors by the House of Delegates to persons who have rendered distinguished services to NSNA (NSNA Bylaws). Individuals considered for Honorary Membership should have given at least five years of service to NSNA, or have performed in an extraordinary fashion. Honorary members and Sustaining members do not receive any benefits related to NSNA's governance.

NSNA Board of Directors, Committees, And Appointed Representatives

General Description

Board of Directors

The Board of Directors is elected at the Annual House of Delegates meeting. The Board is the policy-making body of the association between the meetings of the House. All voting members of the Board are student nurses. Each Board member has responsibilities in various program areas of the association, as detailed below, and also functions as part of the corporate Board of Directors, sharing equally in fiduciary and decision-making responsibilities. Each Board member is expected to serve the whole association and to represent the needs of all members.

Please note that to serve in the position of NSNA president or vice president, the NSNA member must be enrolled in nursing school until at least one month prior to the NSNA annual meeting. As a volunteer-led organization, NSNA relies upon its elected officials to maintain the integrity of the organization. As such, holding an office entails both a privilege and a duty. A decision to run for office should be motivated by concern for the organization and its members. NSNA recommends that students interested in running for office not extend their nursing education with the intent to prolong eligibility for national office.

President: Serves as the principal officer of the association and presides at all meetings; responsible for seeing that direction given by the House of Delegates and the actions of the board are carried into effect; appoints committees and their chairpersons with the approval of the Board; serves as an ex-officio member of all committees, except the Nominating and Elections Committee; serves as ex-officio member of the Foundation of the NSNA Board of Trustees and represents NSNA.

Vice-President: Presides at meetings in the president's absence; performs other duties as assigned by the president, including serving as chairperson of one or more NSNA Board Committee(s).

Secretary/Treasurer: Chairs the Finance Committee; reviews state minutes and assists state secretaries in their duties; assists state treasurers in establishing an efficient system of bookkeeping, budgeting, keeping of essential records, and financial and tax reports; interprets NSNA finances to the membership.

Imprint® Editor: Plans and sets the focus of each issue of the magazine; approves new articles for publication; prepares an editorial for each issue; advises and supports state and school newsletter/communication editors and/or directors; plans the Communications and Image of Nursing Workshop at MidYear and Association Activity Seminar at Convention. Chairs the Image of Nursing Committee.

Breakthrough to Nursing® (BTN) Director: Chairs the Breakthrough to Nursing Committee and coordinates national BTN activities. Provides assistance to state and school BTN chairpersons.

Directors at Large: Areas of responsibility are determined by the Board of Directors, and include areas such as health policy and advocacy, population and global health, ethics and governance, membership recruitment, convention and program planning, or other special activities related to the NSNA Board of Directors, Committees, and Appointed Representatives to NSNA's® ongoing activities. The NSNA Board functions under a committee structure. The president is an ex-officio member of all Board committees. Board members conduct workshops and webinars in their respective areas.

Nominating and Elections Committee

Members of the Nominating and Elections Committee are elected by the House of Delegates to seek out candidates for national office and to present a slate of nominees for all elected positions of the association. The committee also oversees the campaigning at the convention. The committee's function is a vital one, and is its sole responsibility. There are four members of the Nominating and Elections Committee, including the chairperson, who is elected from among the committee members by the House of Delegates. The chairperson directs the work of the committee so that it will properly fulfill its duties. The Nominating and Elections Committee reports to the House of Delegates.

Resolutions Committee

The Resolutions Committee is appointed by the NSNA President with Board approval. This committee reviews all resolutions submitted in order to ensure workable implementation before resolutions are presented to the House of Delegates. Specifically, the committee edits, rewrites, or combines resolutions; consults with the makers of all resolutions; and rejects those resolutions that are considered unfeasible, submitted after the deadline, or duplicate existing NSNA policies.

Resolutions can only be authored by NSNA student members, which includes constituent state associations, constituent school chapters, the NSNA Board of Directors, and NSNA committees. There is only one primary author per resolution, and that author can only be the primary for one resolution. However, ALL authors must be current students AND NSNA members at the time of the NSNA Annual Convention. To meet the submission deadline, complete resolution applications must be received at NSNA Headquarters by 5:00pm EST on January 15, 2022. State constituents with conventions after this date can receive a deadline extension.

All school constituents must meet the deadline.

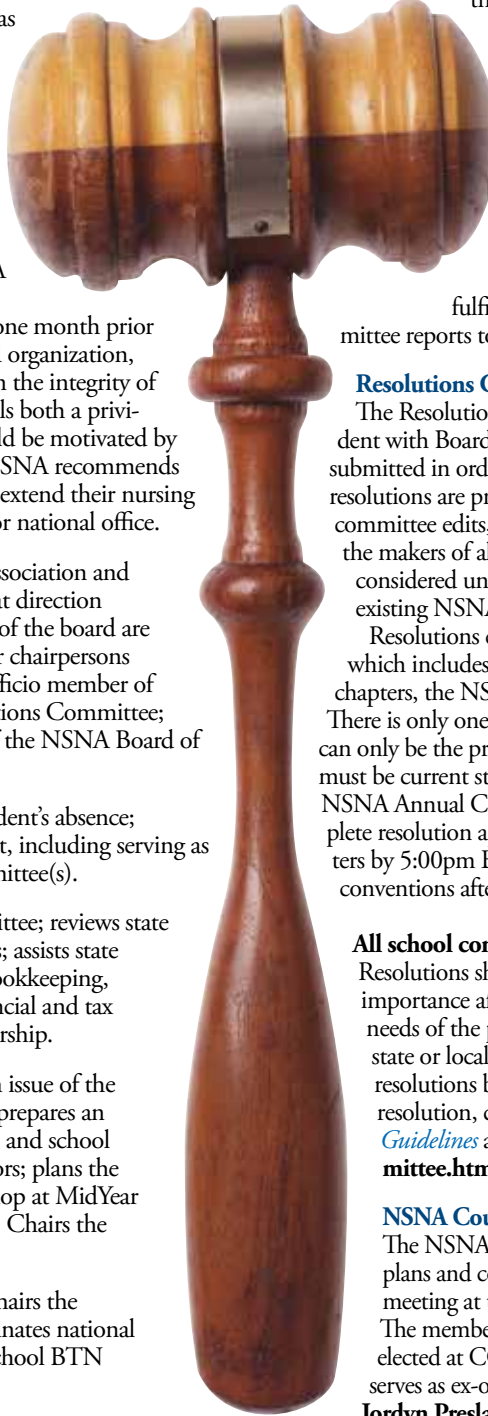

Resolutions should be submitted on matters of national importance affecting student nursing, nursing, and the health needs of the public. All resolutions must have a national (not a state or local) focus. Once passed by the House of Delegates, resolutions become official NSNA policy. Before writing a resolution, check the policies on www.nsna.org. Resolution Guidelines are available on www.nsna.org/resolutions-committee.html.

NSNA Council of State Presidents Planning Committee

The NSNA Council of State Presidents Planning Committee plans and conducts the Council of State Presidents (COSP) meeting at the MidYear Conference and Annual Convention. The members of the planning committee are state presidents elected at COSP. The chair of the COSP Planning Committee serves as ex-officio member of the NSNA Board of Directors.

Tayler Akins, NEC Chairperson and Western representative; Trevor Voice, Northern representative; Hunter Hardin, Southern representative; Kreena C. Patel, Eastern representative

The Nominating and Elections Committee (NEC) is composed solely of student nurses, and is elected by the House to select a slate of candidates for elections the following year. The NEC is a separate body from the Board of Directors and reports directly to the House of Delegates.

NSNA Structure

Members are active and associate members as described above under Membership Requirements. These members make up the School Constituents and State Constituents, whose activities and responsibilities are described in Sections II and III of this handbook. Through school constituents and state constituents, the members have representation in the House of Delegates, the major decision-making body of NSNA, which meets each year during the Annual Convention. The House sets direction for the association, and elects the members of the Board of Directors and Nominating and Elections Committee.

NSNA Communications

NSNA communicates with members through its website, www.nsna.org, Imprint®, email, and mailings.

State presidents and state consultants receive the COSP Connection (eNewsletter) and have access to Community of State Presidents Facebook page.

NSNA communicates directly with deans and directors of schools of nursing through email, Imprint®, and Dean's Notes. Faculty advisors receive broadcast emails.

Important broadcasts to the entire membership as well as faculty advisors include:

1. Weekly email updates: typically sent out each Friday and as needed.
2. Social Media: Follow NSNA on Facebook, Twitter, Instagram (@nsnainc) and LinkedIn for the latest news and announcements. The Board of Directors also maintain a Facebook and Instagram page.
3. The Back-to-School Email: includes information about developing and strengthening state and school chapters; web links to updated NSNA publications; and important NSNA activities.
4. Convention Alert: information about the Annual Convention and MidYear Conference, the House of Delegates, and membership updates.
5. Delegate Notification: information about preparation for House of Delegate participation. Let the NSNA office know if you are not receiving the broadcast emails. The problem can be corrected.

Election Areas

The country is divided into four election areas. These areas are not intended to be a formal structure, but rather allow for increased communication within NSNA.

Four directors and the Nominating and Elections Committee members are elected from these areas to ensure representation of students in all areas of the country.

Section II: How To Manage A State Association

Responsibilities of a State Association

This section is designed to help state leaders manage state associations. It should be used in conjunction with the organizational resources available from NSNA. (See Membership > Association & Chapter Resources at www.nsna.org.) Each state association should have one copy of all publications listed under “Organizational Resources.”

State Board members are encouraged to communicate with NSNA Board members who serve in similar roles (e.g., convention chair, population and global health chair, etc.) These elected officials are available to assist and guide state board members to successfully fulfill the responsibilities of their respective roles. State presidents are encouraged to stay in touch with their NSNA Board Liaison.

The state association is the middle level in the NSNA structure, and its responsibilities are different from those of the national and school chapter levels. Listed below are the state’s responsibilities:

Communication

- Develop and establish communication channels with all levels of the association
- Develop guidelines and evaluation tools
- Produce and distribute publications and online forms of communication
- Promote benefits and services offered by NSNA and the state associations
- Utilize social media as an effective platform to connect with local chapters and state associations

Education

- Collaborate with appropriate state associations, the State Board of Nursing, and with schools of nursing (deans, directors, and faculty)
- Consultation services to school chapters
- Leadership development for shared-governance

Finances

- Fiduciary responsibility for state association funds
- Financial policies and management
- Fundraising and financial reporting to state membership
- Leadership University Certificate program for Treasurers

Health Policy and Advocacy

- Education programs to prepare students to participate in the legislative process
- Coordination of activities on the state level
- Communicate with state legislators, staff, legislative organizations, and with other organizations and governmental agencies
- Development of legislative positions, and monitors major and pertinent state legislation
- Distribution of information

Membership Services

- Utilize statistics provided by NSNA
- Develop state membership benefits

Membership Recruitment

- Develop and distribute recruitment materials
- Consultation on recruitment methods for school chapters
- Establish faculty liaison
- Promote benefits
- Establish liaison with nursing school administrators

Recruitment into Nursing and Career Counseling

- Liaise with faculty, deans, and directors of nursing schools and with health care recruiters
- Material development and distribution
- Coordination of recruitment activities

Incorporation

NSNA encourages that state associations incorporate and maintain incorporation status. Since corporation laws and costs vary from state to state, it is suggested that any association seeking incorporation contact a local attorney for help. Following are some general points prepared by NSNA’s attorneys regarding the advantages of incorporation: The unincorporated association provides the greatest flexibility with the lowest operating costs. However, the very fact that the association is not incorporated leaves it and its members without the protections of the limited liability inherent in a corporation.

Unincorporated associations and their members can be liable for: a) contracts made by officers or members on behalf of the association; b) negligent or unintentional tortuous acts committed by members in furtherance of association business; and c) debts incurred on behalf of the association. In addition, unincorporated associations cannot hold or take property in their own names nor receive such property by devise or bequest (as by will).

On the other hand, an association that is incorporated enjoys all the benefits of being a corporation including liability for contracts, debts, and tortuous acts which is limited solely to the corporation itself and its assets, and not to the individual members.

Incorporating a nonprofit organization such as a state association is a relatively simple and inexpensive procedure in most states. In addition, the filing fees and other expenses for maintaining such a nonprofit corporation are worth the expense to limit liability on members. Naturally, each state government has its own rules, regulations, and filing fees regarding nonprofit incorporations. However, the benefits of such incorporation in most cases will outweigh any cost or inconvenience incurred in so doing, especially when balanced against the particular potential liability faced by an unincorporated association.

Once incorporated, it is extremely important that the association file annual tax returns and other periodic reports as required by federal and state regulations. Failure to file these reports may result in loss of tax exempt and incorporated status.

Staffing

NSNA’s state associations are unique in that they are managed almost entirely by volunteer student nurses and may have little management experience. However, the increasing complexities of running a state association have caused some states to hire support staff. There are many different possibilities for staffing available, and each state must be careful to obtain the right staffing for its needs and budget. The NSNA staff can assist in determining the needs and requirements within your budget as well as reviewing contractual arrangements. When staff is used in a voluntary organization, the association leaders must understand the differentiated role of Board and staff including the fiduciary responsibility which cannot be delegated to staff.

Types of Staffing

- Some state nurses’ associations affiliated with the American Nurses Association or the American Organization of Nursing Leadership provide staff support to the student association and invoice them for the time involved. Services usually include administrative support and keeping of official state files.
- Administrative Assistants: Some states have assistants who are paid on an hourly or monthly basis to handle administrative services. In some cases, these assistants also help to manage the convention, sell advertising, and keep the financial records.
- Association Management Firms: An association management firm usually works with a number of small associations, from organizing a convention to implementing all the policies set by the Board of Directors. The management firm usually has a set monthly fee, plus additional charges for postage, printing, telephone and travel costs, and commissions on advertising and exhibits. There are many advantages to this arrangement, however it is a big step and a large financial commitment for a state association, and should only be approached after thoughtful study. The NSNA staff is available for consultation to any states interested in this type of arrangement.

General Communication

The state association is a vital link in the communication chain. Each state is responsible for communicating with NSNA, with the schools in the state, and with members.

State and school chapters with websites can link to NSNA's® site. Just forward your web address to nsna@nsna.org and NSNA will review the site and let you know the status.

NSNA encourages its chapters to establish their own web sites and social media as vital tools for communicating with members. Social Media, and Website Awards have been established. For criteria for that and other program awards, check the NSNA Awards and Honors section under Publications on www.nsna.org.

Note: NSNA is not responsible for content appearing on a chapter website. NSNA also has the right to refuse any links to its website at its discretion.

Communication with NSNA

All states should have regular communication with the NSNA Board of Directors and staff. It is essential that NSNA receive up-to-date contact information for all state presidents and members of state boards. The NSNA Board members are assigned to state presidents to serve as a point of contact for information and assistance. If you do not hear from an NSNA Board member, please contact NSNA.

State associations are required to upload approved, signed Board of Director and Annual Membership Meeting minutes to NSNA. Minutes must be submitted electronically at www.nsna.me/nsnastatemin. NSNA will accept electronic signatures in state minutes from the states in which this is acceptable by law; in states where electronic signatures are not acceptable by law, state associations must also submit one signed hard copy and upload the unsigned electronic file to NSNA.

State officers should not hesitate to contact any member of the NSNA board or staff to discuss issues or problems. Consult the list of board and staff responsibilities for the appropriate person. All correspondence should be addressed to the NSNA office. You can also contact NSNA staff. See page 43 for NSNA Headquarters Information.

Communication with Schools

While NSNA communicates with each school of nursing via Imprint®, emails, social media, and other means, it is also important for state associations to communicate with schools. The state association holds the school chapters together, and the members of the state board are excellent resources for the school presidents.

One way to build regular communication with the school chapters is to invite school presidents to your board meetings, or hold a Council of School Leaders (COSL) workshop for all school officers and committee chairs. Holding a COSL during the summer or early fall can help school chapters to plan activities for the year.

Some states assign each board member a number of schools for regular communication. The board member then becomes the school president's resource on the state level. Guidelines for planning and publicizing a COSL can be found on the Leadership University website.

Communication with Members

Communication with members is vital. NSNA communicates with members via Imprint®, direct mailings about meetings and conferences, online (NSNA website www.nsna.org), and weekly broadcast emails. Members are encouraged to inform NSNA of any address changes so that mail reaches them. NSNA also communicates with members via email. Many state associations also have their own newsletters and maintain websites.

NSNA members may update their personal data, including email address, on line at www.nsnamembership.org. Click on "Update an Existing Membership." You will need to enter your membership number and zip code to log on. Remember to inform NSNA when your street or email address changes.

To protect your privacy, NSNA does not release email addresses to third parties, however, NSNA releases respective state member's email address as per NSNA policy. For NSNA's® full privacy policy, including how membership information is used, see page 14.

When Communication Fails:

Not Receiving Communication from NSNA?

Sometimes, no matter how hard we try, communication fails. State officers should be aware of breakdown in communication channels and correct the problem.

Often, state officers hear that members are not receiving materials from NSNA, such as Imprint® or membership cards. This should be referred to the NSNA office. Ask the member to send NSNA their name, current address, date they joined, membership number, and a copy of their cancelled check, credit card statement, or money order. The sooner the member communicates with NSNA, the sooner the problem will be solved. They can also email their information to nsna@nsna.org, or call (718) 210-0705.

Planning A State Membership Recruitment Campaign

State associations play a key role in membership recruitment. The following recommendations are provided to help state student associations strengthen their role in membership recruitment, retention, and leadership development.

- Develop a strategy that concentrates on creating, strengthening, and maintaining school chapters in addition to recruiting individual members. Appoint a board member as chair of the Membership Committee. The committee can be composed of board members and key school leaders. State regional directors can serve as a liaison with all schools in their specified region.
- Arrange to have contact persons in every school in the state. Contact persons can include key student leaders and faculty advisors.
- Encourage active schools to have membership recruitment committees responsible for coordinating recruitment activities.
- Promote the Total School Membership Plan which includes NSNA membership dues as part of student activity or tuition fees. (See page 17).
- Provide membership incentive contests and an awards program. Awards can be presented during annual conventions or other state meetings. For example, there could be an award for the school with the highest percentage of membership increase from the starting date to the ending date. This contest can be modeled after NSNA's® Winners' Way Contest at the state level. The elements of the Precious Metal Contest can also be modified for schools and given a new name.
- Show "Catch the Wave with NSNA" video at state meetings (available on NSNA website).
- Assign board members to attend school chapter meetings and to bring greetings from the state board.
- Let NSNA know which schools you are targeting to start chapters. NSNA can help by providing recruitment incentives such as copies of Imprint, and membership brochures.
- Encourage board members to obtain Project InTouch Recruiter numbers so that they earn prizes for their recruitment efforts.
- Use your state newsletter as a recruitment tool.
- Assist new chapters and those in financial need to design fundraising activities.
- When NSNA receives an inquiry from a school that wants to start a chapter, a copy of the response is sent to the state president. Follow-up by writing or calling these leads as soon as possible.
- Share your successes by submitting an overview of your recruitment projects to the attention of the Happenings reporter at nsna@nsna.org, and they may be published in the Imprint Happenings column.
- Use the recruitment resources available from NSNA. Refer to the publications list for details.
- Remember that recognition is an important part of professional development. Build recognition into all state activities. Contests are fun and can develop team spirit among members.
- Utilize social media to communicate the latest news to members
- Use the Guidelines for Planning Booklets as a resource to plan program activities. It is available under Publications at nsna.org.

Get Organized

First, find out about last year's campaign. What activities were held? What was the budget? Who worked on the campaign? Did enough people contribute time? Determine what supplies you have on hand, such as membership brochures, posters, and audiovisuals. What is the state's membership potential for the coming year? By breaking down the potential membership by program and school, you will have a better idea of how to assign volunteers and resources.

NSNA can supply you with your potential membership figures. Are there any new nursing programs in your state? A good place to check is the state board of nursing or the National League for Nursing. Is there an existing campaign ready to use? Check current or past campaign programs, and find out what NSNA has planned by consulting the NSNA Membership Recruitment Guidelines. Check with schools whose membership is consistently good, and see if there is a local recruitment campaign that may work on a state level.

Recruitment Committee

The Membership Chairperson should form a statewide recruitment committee responsible for setting the times, dates, and places for programs and membership associated activities. The committee should submit a budget and plan for a membership campaign to the Board of Directors for approval. Appoint committee members according to their experience, availability, willingness to serve and geographic location. In a small state, the Board of Directors may serve as the recruitment committee. Ideas for your committee might include:

- PowerPoint or video presentation for state activities;
- State officers visits to each school to meet with faculty and students;
- Orientation day exhibit on campus;
- Meeting with deans/directors and school chapter leaders;
- Utilizing school social events for recruitment;
- Offering members discounted equipment such as scissors and stethoscopes;
- Dividing schools between state officers;
- Identifying faculty members who are professional association leaders and involve them with deans who are not initially receptive; be persistent and try new strategies;
- Inviting faculty and deans to state conventions/conferences;
- Establishing common interests and goals committee with state nurses' associations affiliated with the American Nurses Association;
- Developing a benefits package for your state (such as local discounts for uniforms, and equipment).

Recruitment Workshops

You may choose to hold a workshop for the school association membership chairpersons. Contact NSNA for information about what other states have used to educate and motivate their recruitment chairpersons. The recruitment workshop can be held in cooperation with a Council of School Presidents.

Publicity and Follow-Up

- Use colorful posters urging students to join NSNA, and place them in strategic areas.
- Use bulletin board displays depicting NSNA activities and projects and activities in your state and local associations.
- Remember to promote the NSNA Annual Convention and MidYear Conference.
- Display copies of Imprint® and promote it as a membership benefit.
- Show the video: "Catch the Wave with NSNA!"
- Take photos of members in action. Approach the news media about getting publicity. (Ask your faculty for help.)
- Use your state newsletter to keep schools informed.
- Send NSNA contact information of non-members, and NSNA will send them membership information.
- Let NSNA know how your recruitment efforts are going.
- Meet with your committee regularly and evaluate how activities are progressing.
- Encourage students to follow NSNA on social media (Facebook, Instagram @nsnainc)

Timing

Before you start recruiting, develop a timetable and an action plan:

May/June - Before the term ends, form a new membership committee for next semester. States should establish school contact persons and get correct addresses. The membership chairperson can speak with school chairpersons to exchange ideas and plan a general statewide strategy.

July - Have a meeting of the recruitment committee. Assign responsibilities to committee members in different areas, such as publicity, meeting planning, fundraising, etc. Decide what recruitment approach would be best for your area. Determine what materials are needed and obtain them. Order membership brochures from NSNA if you haven't done so already. Obtain a Project InTouch recruiter number. Work with the state board to plan activities and programs for the year; these are the key to recruitment.

August - Have another committee meeting to finalize plans. Make sure everyone knows their responsibility. Distribute materials to all schools.

September - Start actively recruiting and visiting schools. Encourage schools to set up a table during registration and freshman orientation. Build recruitment into all programs and activities. Show the NSNA video at a recruitment meeting.

Check out NSNA's Guidelines for Fundraising so that your chapter can help its members attend state and national conventions.

October to December - Begin active programs and get everyone involved. Encourage attendance at NSNA's MidYear Conference. Set up a recruitment table at your state convention. Conduct a Council of School Presidents meeting.

January - Evaluate the success of your campaign from September. Make adjustments and use it again for students registering now. Last recruitment push to ensure that schools have enough members to qualify for official NSNA constituency states by the deadline.

February to May - Implement projects and programs. Encourage attendance at NSNA Convention. Get recognized for your work and apply for NSNA Program Awards.

June - Begin again. Once a school chapter is established in your state, the state board must work to make it a success and ensure its viability. Please refer to the NSNA website under Membership/ Membership Recruitment Resources for additional resources.

Planning a Council of School Presidents (COSP)

State associations are encouraged to plan and implement leadership workshops geared to help school chapters grow and develop. COSP Meetings allow school chapters to share ideas, challenges, and solutions with the objective of developing successful chapters. For more details, go to the COSP page at www.nсна.org. Note: If you need a roster of your members and their expiration date, email nsna@nsna.org.

- Promote awareness of the NSNA Code of Ethics and Core Values

Population and Global Health

School Mailing Address

School chapters should establish a permanent mailing address at the school. This can be a permanent box number in care of the nursing department, or a post office box in the city in which the school is located.

However, it is imperative that a permanent mailing address is established so that in future years NSNA and the school chapter are assured of having material reach student nurses. Also, establish a permanent chapter email address and send to NSNA.

Working with Student Government Associations

NSNA school chapters should work closely with the student government associations in their colleges and universities. Following are suggested relationships between the two groups that should be adapted to meet the needs of each school. The NSNA chapter:

- Sends a representative to the student government association.
- Is a committee within student nurses association.
- Sends representative to overall college/university student government.
- Receives partial funding from NSNA (dues sharing, special requests for funding of projects).
- Receives separate funding or receives partial funding from overall student government.
- Seeks support of the sponsoring body. School chapters should investigate the availability of student activity fees to fund projects and activities.

When two organizations for student nurses coexist, the leadership should meet to clarify respective and unique purposes and authorities in representing students. When meeting similar purposes, the organizations should pool resources.

School chapters should try not to be placed in competition with a nursing student government association or any other campus nursing group. NSNA supports cooperative relationships between school student governments and other campus nursing groups and NSNA school chapters. Open lines of communication, cooperation in planning and implementing programs, projects, and dual membership are encouraged. The autonomy and integrity of each body should be preserved.

Membership Lists Available

State and school chapters may not distribute membership lists or member information to any third parties (e.g., vendors, state nurses associations, hospital recruiters). Vendors and hospital recruiters may contact NSNA for information about NSNA list rental. School and state chapters are authorized only to use NSNA member lists to communicate with their respective members.

School chapter presidents and faculty advisors may request a report containing the names of members at their school and their membership expiration date by sending a request to: nsna@nsna.org. These reports are sorted alphabetically by last name.

To obtain membership reports, mailing list files or labels of members in your state, contact W.L. Arehart Computer Systems, NSNA's® membership processing company. State reports are sent via email in PDF format only and sorted according to school. Mailing list files and labels are available for $24 per thousand names/per list. Labels are sorted by zip code. Mailing list files are sent via email in comma delimited text format.

Make check or money order payable to W.L. Arehart Computer Systems, Inc. Send request to:

Total School Membership Plan

Have you ever considered the advantages of including NSNA membership dues as part of student activity or tuition fees?

NSNA's® Total School Membership Plan is designed to enrich the educational experience of entry level student nurses. When NSNA membership dues are included in student activity or tuition fees, all students can become involved in a national leadership development program. Students can spend less time recruiting members and instead, put their time and effort into Population and Global Health, Health Policy and Advocacy, Breakthrough to Nursing® Projects, and many creative initiatives that develop team spirit and cooperation.

If this membership option sounds like it could work at your school, please discuss it with the students and faculty. Then, approach the school administration and legal counsel to determine the feasibility, of participating in this plan. The method of dues collection must include an opportunity for those students who do not wish to be NSNA members to have an option to opt out of joining. Please contact Cathy Ramos, Membership Staff Specialist, (nsna@nsna.org) to collaborate on this exciting plan!

Tips for Recruiting Members

- Utilize social media to connect with members
- Use NSNA's® video, "Catch the Wave with NSNA!" in all your recruitment activities. Show it at registration, in meetings, and in classrooms.
- Invite prospective members to your first meeting and plan an exciting program.
- Hold an informal open house and have each member invite students who are not members. If a former student from your area has attended an NSNA Convention in the past year or two, or a member has recently been involved in an interdisciplinary student meeting, invite that person to come and speak to the group to describe these meetings, and in particular, how they have been involved in NSNA.
- Hold proactive programs. You may choose to involve potential members in an activity like hypertension screening and then ask the person to join a team that is teaching the public about hypertension. This provides a mechanism to channel new members' enthusiasm into the association.
- List all the accomplishments of your organization over the past year or several years, and make it available to your prospective members. Include NSNA and state as well as school accomplishments. By emphasizing the positive achievements of your organization, you can generate interest in your prospective members.

Tips for Recruiting Prenursing Students

- Find out when registration is scheduled for your school and provide membership information and forms.
- Include a letter from your chapter president in any e-mailings from the school to new students.
- Make a presentation to beginning students during their orientation. This could be arranged through faculty. Have a question and answer session about the school as well as NSNA. Use the NSNA recruitment video.
- Hold an informal "Beginning Students' Day." Contact parents and spouses of beginning students and suggest that they give their son, daughter or spouse an NSNA membership. The timing of this recruitment idea may be in conjunction with the beginning of the school year to suggest NSNA membership as a gift to students. It may also be suggested as a holiday or birthday gift. This would pick up members who didn't join in the fall.
- Offer special help with nursing classes and assignments to those who become members. Special help can be invaluable to those just beginning nursing school.
- Set up a Mentorship program for members. Send NSNA the names and addresses of potential members. NSNA will send them membership information.

Activity Planning for School Chapters

Participating in NSNA activities is an excellent way to learn shared-governance leadership skills. Once your chapter is organized, programs and projects are the best way to involve members and give your chapter a purpose. Suggestions for a variety of activities are listed in this section. To make programs and projects effective, select only a few and plan them well. You may wish to set your priorities as a chapter to determine how much time you wish to spend on specific activities. Projects should reflect the interests and needs of your membership. You may want to select one project to focus on, or plan a variety of short-term projects.

Planning Educational Programs

One way to keep your members involved is to plan meaningful programs during the year on subjects of interest. This can also be an incentive for people to join your chapter. In planning for a successful program, consider the following:

- Choose a topic that is of interest to your members. Survey students for suggestions; choose a subject that is not covered in your curriculum, or a topic you are studying and wish to know more about. You can also choose an issue in nursing or in your community. Plan and publicize the program well in advance. The date should not conflict with other school or local activities or with exams.
- Clearly identify learning objectives for the program. Why are you having the program? What do you hope to accomplish? What results do you expect? What kind of problems are you trying to correct?
- Invite dynamic presenters who are experts in their field. Most people will speak for free if you explain that you are a student group with limited funds. To identify speakers, ask faculty members or your local nurses association for recommendations. If you plan a series of programs, you might wish to vary the format. Some formats are: lecture, main speaker and respondents' panel, a panel of speakers and addressing the same issue from different perspectives, and dramatization.
- Finally, evaluate the program. Have those who attended fill out an evaluation form. The evaluation lets you see what worked this time and what may be done to improve future programs.

Population and Global Health

Population and Global Health projects provide a needed community service and opportunities for student nurses to utilize or gain knowledge and skills. There are a variety of nationally sponsored projects to choose from, or you can formulate a project to meet a specific need in your own community. "Community" here refers to your school, town, or a specific population you wish to reach.

Population and Global Health awards are given to the Most Successful State Population and Global Health Project and the Most Successful School Project. Applications are available from the NSNA Awards and Honors' booklet, available under publications on the NSNA website, and must be received by March 8, 2022.

Since 2005 NSNA has been dedicated to raising global health awareness through education and encouraging state association and school chapter projects. The committee's goals move this important work forward. The NSNA Guidelines for Population and Global Health provides important information on the Population and Global Health awards and about establishing or strengthening activities. Applications are available from the NSNA website under publications on the NSNA website and must be received by March 8, 2022.

Breakthrough to Nursing®

Breakthrough to Nursing® (BTN) is NSNA's® project to increase the number and diversity of students choosing nursing as a career. The project was established because of NSNA's® concern over the inadequacy of health care delivery to minority group members and the lack of minority group health care providers. The objectives of the project are to promote career opportunities in nursing, with a focus on substantially increasing the number of students from groups who traditionally have been underrepresented in American nursing, and to encourage the nursing educational system to be more responsive to the needs of these students. The project has been supported by NSNA since 1965. Its effectiveness seems due, in part, to the peer relationship that can be established between nursing students and minority group elementary, middle and high school students. In addition, through the Foundation of the NSNA, scholarships support is available for diverse nursing students to increase the number of registered nurses from ethnic minorities in the profession.

BTN also teaches nursing students to be culturally competent in their care of all patients. Resolutions passed by the NSNA House of Delegates has expanded the Project to include the recruitment of students from all underrepresented populations.

Resource materials, including the Breakthrough to Nursing® Project Guidelines, and the recruitment video Catch the Wave with NSNA are available on the NSNA website at www.nsna.org.

Two awards are given for Breakthrough to Nursing® activities at Convention, for the Most Successful BTN projects at the state and school levels. Project applications must be received by March 8, 2022.

Health Policy and Advocacy

Legislative action affects who, how, why and where nursing is practiced and who receives care. Student nurses should become involved in the legislative process and have a voice in what will happen to the nursing profession and the communities we serve. NSNA monitors national legislative activities of concern to the nursing profession and to students and publishes this information in Imprint®. Your state Health Policy and Advocacy chairperson does the same on the state level. However, monitoring of legislation is more beneficial when students on the local level can be counted on to respond to state or national legislative government when necessary. The state Health Policy and Advocacy chairperson can also serve as a liaison with state nurses' association legislative committee.

One person should be designated as the Health Policy and Advocacy contact person for each school chapter. This person should correspond frequently with the state chairperson to get information and be responsible for informing other students of actions that need to be taken.

Education of chapter members about the legislative process is important. Many people are intimidated by legislation or don't understand the process. The NSNA booklet, Guidelines for Planning for Health Policy and Advocacy provides basic guidelines in how you and your state association or school chapter can get active in legislation, and information about the NSNA Voter Registration and Get-Out-the-Vote Campaign. Project applications must be received by March 8, 2022.

Empowering Resolutions Award

The purpose of this award is to promote the advancement of NSNA resolutions passed in the NSNA House of Delegates in the last 10 years, through state and school projects. One award each is given out to the top state project and the top school project. The 2021-2022 Empowering Resolution Award winning state and school chapter project will receive a certificate and $100 at the 70th Annual Convention, in Salt Lake City, UT, April 6-10, 2022. The Empowering Resolutions Award application deadline is March 8, 2022. The links to NSNA Resolutions over the past 10 years are on the website under publications/resolutions, and the application is available in the NSNA Awards and Honors booklet under publications at www.nsna.org.

Image of Nursing Activities

The Image of Nursing Committee focus is about promoting and maintaining a public opinion of nursing that is not only positive, but truthful. NSNA members are not only encouraged to promote a positive image of nursing in the hospital setting, but also in their everyday lives. They are also encouraged to form Image of Nursing Committees on the state and local level, in order to spread this positive image via their efforts throughout the country.

Students are encouraged to submit to the committee information about how their chapter is acting in a way that promotes a positive image of nursing, no matter how small those acts may be. Each submission to the committee will be considered for the Image Project Award (see below). Articles about such actions can also be submitted to Imprint® magazine for possible publication. Project applications must be received by March 8, 2022.

There are four awards given by the Image of Nursing Committee to state chapters, as well as four awards given at the school chapter levels. These awards include a newsletter award, website award, social media award, and an Image of Nursing Award. More information about each of these awards can be found in the Awards and Honors Booklet at www.nсна.org under Publications. Also available under Publications is the Guidelines for Planning an Image of Nursing Project Booklet, which can help state and school chapters plan an event under Image Committee guidelines.

Education Activities

One of the most beneficial things that your school chapter can do for its members is to become involved with the educational process. Become involved in curriculum development. Speak with your faculty about having a voting representative on the curriculum committee. Give input to the faculty on how effective you think the present curriculum is, and what areas need revision.

The NSNA House of Delegates has adopted a Code of Ethics consisting of the Code of Professional Conduct and the Code of Academic and Clinical Conduct (see pages 25-26). Taken in concert with the Bill of Rights and Responsibilities for Students of Nursing, they provide comprehensive guidelines that set the tone for professional development. Safeguard your rights as students. The Bill of Rights and Responsibilities for Students of Nursing is available on the website. This outlines basic rights and responsibilities for student nurses and has guidelines for grievance procedures when a student feels his/her rights have been infringed upon. However, this document has no meaning unless you work to get a bill of rights and a grievance procedure adopted at your own school and recognized by administration, students, and faculty.

If you are in an associate degree or diploma program, you may wish to research career mobility options in your area and make your members aware of this information.

The NSNA Board of Directors is reviewing the Code of Ethics and will bring proposed changes to the 2022 House of Delegates.

Section IV: Appendices

Appendix A: Frequently Asked Questions: NSNA Resolutions

If your chapter is considering submitting a resolution to the 2022 House of Delegates, here are some Frequently Asked Questions to guide your decision. Once you have determined that your chapter will submit a resolution, refer to Guideline for Planning Resolutions for the 2022 NSNA House of Delegates (click on publications and then Guidelines for Planning on www.nsna.org) for complete details, sample resolution and resolution template.

What is a Resolution? A resolution is a written main motion on a subject of great importance expressed in formal wording. It serves to establish the NSNA's position on matters of national scope and significance affecting student nurses, nursing, and the health needs of the public. No resolution is in order that creates a conflict with the Bylaws of the association, state or federal laws governing non-profit organizations. Resolutions are adopted by a majority vote and continue in force until rescinded.

What are the different types of Resolutions?

- "Resolutions of Substance" serve as one means by which a significant position may be expressed, purposes of NSNA implemented, and directions given for future action on topics of national importance.
- "Courtesy Resolutions" communicate an expression of gratitude for contributions made to NSNA by groups or individuals.
- "Emergency Resolutions" are resolutions on a topic that arises after the resolutions deadline date. The deadline for submission of emergency resolutions to the Resolutions Committee is 5:00 pm on the opening day of the annual meeting, unless the emergency topic arises during the convention, at which time a resolution can be presented before the end of the last Resolutions Hearings.

When is it best to submit a Resolution and when is it best to use a simple Main Motion? A course of action or issue to be brought before the House is submitted as a resolution when it is lengthy, important to the association, or complex in design. A Resolution is also used when a copy of the statement is to be sent to another organization, to a government body, and to the news media. A Main Motion is simply a proposal that brings a particular subject before the assembly for consideration and action. It does not need to be formally written, as a resolution is; no "Whereas" or "Resolved" clauses are needed. The Main Motion is usually used for action within the organization, or when no other group is to be notified of the action taken. Both a Resolution and a Main Motion are handled in the same manner when presented; both require a second, are debatable, amendable, require a majority vote, and can be reconsidered.

Who is authorized to submit a resolution? One resolution per year may be submitted by NSNA official school or state constituents, the NSNA Board of Directors, and NSNA standing committees.

Individual members may not submit resolutions. Authors must be NSNA student members.

How is a resolution submitted? All resolutions submitted to the Resolutions Committee must be pertinent to NSNA's mission, purpose, and function. Only complete resolutions will be accepted. To be complete, resolutions must be submitted by the deadline date with all citations and attachments. The entire submission process is online.

Resolutions Checklist: Only complete resolutions will be accepted for consideration by the Resolutions Committee. Please refer to "Guidelines for Planning Resolutions" on the Publications tab at www.nsna.org.

Are there word limitations for the title of the resolution and the whereas statements?

Yes, see Guidelines for Planning Resolutions.

When are resolutions due at NSNA? The deadline for submission of completed resolutions by NSNA school and state constituents, the NSNA Board of Directors, and NSNA committees is 5 pm EST, January 15, 2022. An NSNA state constituent with a convention after the deadline has two weeks from the closing date of their convention to submit a resolution and must notify NSNA of their intent to submit a resolution before the submission deadline. All school constituents and all other state constituents must meet the deadline. This date is firm and extensions will not be granted.

NSNA elected and appointed officials and candidates should be aware of the very public nature of their role during their candidacy and term of office. As NSNA representatives, you are expected to carefully consider how your interactions with the public will impact the NSNA, even when you are not at an NSNA function. Your actions as an NSNA representative are expected to that of a reasonable and prudent student leader. As a representative to the organization you must hold yourself to a higher standard. Code of Ethics

Part II: Code of Academic and Clinical Conduct

Students of nursing have a responsibility to actively promote the highest level of moral and ethical principles and to embody the academic theory and clinical skills needed to continuously provide evidence-based nursing care given the resources available. Grounded in excellence, altruism and integrity, the clinical setting presents unique challenges and responsibilities while caring for people in a variety of health care environments.

The Code of Academic and Clinical Conduct is based on an agreement to uphold the trust that society has placed in us while practicing as nursing students. The statements of the Code provide guidance for nursing students in the personal development of an ethical foundation for nursing practice. These moral and ethical principles are not limited to the academic or clinical environment and have relevance for the holistic professional development of all students studying to become Registered Nurses.

As students who are involved in the clinical and academic environments, we believe that ethical principles, in adherence with the NSNA Core Values, are a necessary guide to professional development. Therefore, within these environments we:

- Advocate for the rights of all patients.
- Diligently maintain patient confidentiality in all respects, regardless of method or medium of communication.
- Take appropriate action to ensure the safety of patients, self, and others.
- Provide care for the patient in a timely, compassionate, professional, and culturally sensitive and competent manner.
- Are truthful, timely and accurate in all communications related to patient care.
- Accept responsibility for our decisions and actions.
- Promote excellence and leadership in nursing by encouraging lifelong learning, continuing education, and professional development.
- Treat others with respect and promote an inclusive environment that values the diversity, rights, cultural practices and spiritual beliefs of all patients and fellow healthcare professionals.
- Collaborate with academic faculty and clinical staff to ensure the highest quality of patient care and student education.
- Use every opportunity to improve faculty and clinical staff understanding of the nursing student's learning needs.
- Encourage mentorship among nursing students, faculty, clinical staff, and interprofessional peers.
- Refrain from performing skills or procedures without adequate preparation, and seek supervision and assistance when necessary.
- Refrain from any deliberate action or omission in academic or clinical settings that create unnecessary risk of injury to the patient, self, or others.
- Assist the clinical nurse or preceptor in ensuring that adequate informed consent is obtained from patients for research participation, for certain treatments, or for invasive procedures.
- Abstain from the use of any legal or illegal substances in academic and clinical settings that could impair judgment.
- Strive to achieve and maintain an optimal level of personal health.
- Support access to treatment and rehabilitation for students who are experiencing impairment related to substance abuse and mental or physical health issues.
- Uphold school policies and regulations related to academic and clinical performance, reserving the right to challenge and critique rules and regulations as per school grievance policy.

Appendix D:

NSNA Policies/Resolutions for Membership, Board of Directors, Committees, Constituents

This section summarizes NSNA's® major policies adopted over the years by the House of Delegates and the Board of Directors. For more on resolutions and submitting resolutions, see p. 23. See NSNA's® web site, www.nсна.org, under Publications/Resolutions, for Resolutions passed by the House of Delegates.

Membership

Nursing students enrolled in nursing programs leading to licensure as a registered nurse, graduates of associate degree and diploma schools of nursing who are enrolled in BSN completion programs, as well as students in prenursing programs in colleges having a nursing major, are eligible to join NSNA. Nursing students enrolled in generic masters and generic doctoral programs (graduate programs that prepare students for initial RN licensure) are also eligible for membership. Students should be free to join NSNA without coercion. NSNA defines "enrollment" as having paid tuition to the school of nursing that the student is currently attending.

Members having clinical experience in a state other than in the one in which they hold membership should have the privileges of a member of the state organization except for voting. Students enrolled in distance nursing education programs (i.e., Excelsior College, Albany, NY and the University of Phoenix online) shall be members of the state association where the student resides. All others shall be members of the state association in the state where the student is enrolled in nursing school (e.g., if the student is enrolled in Hunter Bellevue School of Nursing and the student lives in New Jersey, the student joins the Nursing Students Association of New York State (November 1997, NSNA Board of Directors).

The categories of membership are:

Active Members are students enrolled in state-approved programs leading to licensure as a registered nurse and registered nurses enrolled in programs leading to a baccalaureate degree with a major in nursing. Active members have all the privileges of membership including serving as officers and delegates (NSNA Bylaws).

Associate Members are prenursing students, including registered nurses, enrolled in college or university programs designed as preparation for entrance into a program leading to an associate or baccalaureate degree in nursing. Associate members have all the privileges of membership except they may not hold the office of president and vice president at the state and national levels (NSNA Bylaws).

Prenursing Students are enrolled in state-approved programs leading to licensure as a registered nurse but are not yet in the nursing major and are identified by the school as prenursing students. This includes RNs who have applied for admission to a school of nursing and are enrolled in undergraduate courses required for admissions as well as students who are planning to apply for admission at a school of nursing and are taking the necessary prerequisite courses (November 1976, Board of Directors).

Individual Members

In the event there is no state association or school chapter, a student may join NSNA as an individual member. If the individual member is a student enrolled in a state-approved program leading to licensure as a registered nurse or a registered nurse enrolled in a program leading to a baccalaureate degree with a major in nursing, the individual is entitled to the privileges of active membership.

Sustaining Members are individuals or organizations interested in furthering the development and growth of NSNA. This membership category is not open to those eligible for active or associate membership. Sustaining members receive literature and other information from the national office.

Honorary Membership is given upon recommendation of the NSNA Board of Directors by the House of Delegates to persons who have rendered distinguished services to NSNA (NSNA Bylaws). Individuals considered for Honorary Membership should have given at least five years of service to NSNA, or have performed in an extraordinary fashion. Former NSNA members considered for Honorary Membership should be out of the organization for two years. No more than two honorary members shall be elected each year (November 1976, Board of Directors).

Effective Date of Changes in State Dues Reimbursement Plans:

All changes in state dues reimbursement plans, whether an increase or decrease, will go into effect as of July 1, of each year. State constituents must notify NSNA by April 30, of each year of any changes in their dues reimbursement plans. If notification is not received, NSNA will automatically place the state on the dues reimbursement plan from the previous year. In states where there is no current state student nurses' association, only national dues will be collected. (November 1979, January 1980, June 1981, June 1989, Board of Directors).

Payment of Dues: Dues may be paid via mail by check, money order, or credit card (Visa, MasterCard) and online on NSNA's® web site under Member Services. Cash, check and/or credit card accepted when dues are paid at time of registration for the Annual Convention or MidYear Conference. Credit card payment of dues is accepted via mail with appropriate card identification on the membership registration form (1988 Board of Directors). Credit card and PayPal payments are accepted online.

Updating Member Data: NSNA encourages members to keep NSNA informed about any changes in their mailing or email address and other membership information. We want to be sure that you receive Imprint and other mailings. This may be done via mail, email (nsna@nsna.org) or NSNA members may update their personal data, including email address, online at www.nsnamembership.org by simply clicking on "Update an Existing Membership." You will need to enter your membership number and zip code to log on.

NSNA Meeting Refund Policy: An 80% refund of meeting registration fees is allowed if a written request is received at NSNA headquarters 14 days prior to the scheduled start date of the meeting. No refunds are made after this date. Requests for refunds after the deadline should be referred to the NSNA Board of Directors in the form of a letter in which the member states the reason for the request. Such requests should be postmarked no later than one month after the convention ends (June 2005 Board of Directors). If approved an 80% refund is issued.

Email Services Provided by NSNA: NSNA provides broadcast blast email services to facilitate communication between state associations and their respective members. NSNA sends blast emails out for the state association to all members in their state. Or, states may rent the list and send the broadcast email out on their own to members. For complete details of this policy, see page 14, or contact NSNA (June 2005 Board of Directors).

Dues Reimbursements. NSNA collects dues for state constituents. All dues reimbursements to state association are processed monthly via ACH (Automatic Clearing House) transfers. To sign up for ACH transfer payments, state associations must mail an original ("blank"), voided check to NSNA (no PDF or copies accepted). This must be mailed in with a completed and signed ACH agreement form. For an online ACH application, go to www.nsna.org under Membership/State Association Resources or email nsna@nsna.org. (Board of Directors, April 2015). As of December 31, 2015 all state associations were ACH compliant. If state associations change banks, NSNA must be contacted immediately by calling 718-210-0705, and refile a new ACH application with voided check as described above.

Simultaneous to each monthly ACH dues reimbursement transfers, printouts of new members (as per NSNA privacy policies) are then mailed to states. Unless otherwise designated by the state president, these printouts are sent to the state treasurer. NSNA shall hold state dues payments based on state association's convention dates until the new board of directors' roster is received (Board of Directors April 2006).

See page 34 for additional information on dues reimbursement.

Membership Enrollment: A student will receive membership benefits covering a period starting with the day that the membership form and dues are received by the NSNA (NSNA Bylaws Article IV, Section 5; June 1989, Board of Directors).

Membership Dues and Registration Checks that Bounce: When a check with insufficient funds or/and other reason, is submitted by a student to NSNA for membership dues, or a credit card chargeback is initiated, that member's name shall be removed from the NSNA membership list and from the school membership records which are maintained for purposes of delegate determination. In addition, the amount of state dues shall be deducted from the next reimbursement check sent to the state by NSNA (June 1979 Board of Directors). When a bad payment is made to NSNA for the Annual Convention or MidYear Conference, the individual's membership will be placed on hold until the debt is cleared (June 1994). Anyone who submits a bounced check, or initiates a credit card chargeback, will have to resubmit their payment plus all administrative charges (November 1997, Board of Directors).

Dues Overpayments: Refunds on dues overpayments under $5.00 will not be made. Membership dues overpayments in the amount of $5.01-$10.00 will be refunded upon request. Overpayments of $10.01 or more will be automatically refunded (May 1993 Board of Directors).

Dues Refunds: There will be no refunds of NSNA dues, except in the case of verified double payment of dues for the same membership period (November 1983 Board of Directors).

Application of Meeting Registration Fees to NSNA Membership: Nonmember meeting registration fees, above what members pay, may be applied to NSNA membership dues if request is received within 30 days of the end of the meeting (1994 Board of Directors).

Student Nurse Membership in Nursing Organizations: NSNA believes that students should first hold membership in NSNA before becoming members of other professional nursing organizations and is firmly opposed to professional nursing organizations offering a membership category unless students are already NSNA members (1971 House of Delegates). NSNA encourages close cooperation with state ANA-affiliated and district nurses' associations, and also encourages NSNA constituents to identify the specific reasons for the low percents of involvement in both ANA and NSNA. ANA is strongly urged to recognize NSNA's autonomy as an independent organization and is discouraged from creating a mechanism for voting, representation of NSNA chapters, or for any other mechanism for recruiting student nurse members in competition with NSNA (1982 House of Delegates). NSNA supports cooperative relationships between school governments and NSNA school chapters. Open lines of communication, cooperation in planning and implementing projects, and dual membership are encouraged. The autonomy and integrity of each body is to be preserved.

Professional Association Membership: NSNA supports concurrent membership of RNs in the American Nurses Association and a specialty organization (1996 House of Delegates). NSNA supports joining the appropriate constituent member association of the American Nurses Association after successful licensure (2003 House of Delegates). NSNA also supports enhanced faculty involvement in and support of nursing student participation in preprofessional and professional organizations (2002 House of Delegates). NSNA supports nursing students joining professional organizations upon graduation (2004 House of Delegates).

Solicitation of Sustaining Membership: The solicitation of sustaining membership for the national organization category shall be coordinated through the NSNA office. State associations receive $5.00 for each sustaining member residing in their state beginning April 1, 1996 (April 1996 Board of Directors).

Discrimination: NSNA is opposed to any form of discrimination in regard to membership and membership rights. Further, it is NSNA policy to work toward the elimination of discrimination wherever it affects students and to work with others in ending discriminatory practices wherever they exist, but particularly in the health care industry, through the development of programs, publicity, and cooperation of other student health groups, nursing organizations, and such other groups as the board may determine.

Board of Directors

Board of Directors: The Board of Directors is elected at the Annual House of Delegates and has the fiduciary responsibility for the organization. The House of Delegates and the Board of Directors are responsible for determining policies which guide the work of the association. The board also works under guidelines set down by previous boards unless they wish to change these at a formal meeting of the board. For a complete list of individual Board member's responsibilities, see www.nсна.org, under About NSNA.

NSNA Board Minutes: A summary of the highlights of each Board of Directors' meeting is published in Imprint® and posted on NSNA's website. Upon written request a state Board of Directors may receive one copy of approved Board meeting minutes.

Consultants: There are two consultants to NSNA: one appointed by the American Nurses Association and one by the National League for Nursing (NSNA Bylaws).

State Associations

Council of State Presidents Planning Committee: The Council of State Presidents (COSP) Planning Committee is composed of four state presidents and the NSNA president. The responsibilities of the committee are to plan and conduct the COSP at the Mid Year Conference and the Annual Convention. The Chair of the COSP Planning Committee is the chair of the COSP meetings (1989 House of Delegates). Election of the COSP Planning Committee will follow NSNA's election areas one representative per area. The COSP Chair is elected by the COSP members (state presidents or their designated alternates and the NSNA Board of Directors) from among the four COSP Planning Committee representatives (who have been elected in the four election areas) with the exception of the COSP Planning Committee chair who serves for one year. COSP Planning Committee members are elected by the COSP to serve for six-month terms. The Planning Committee Chair serves as ex-officio member of the NSNA Board of Directors.

Constituent Associations

Areas of Conformity for All Constituent State Associations: To ensure all the rights and privileges inherent to NSNA membership, constituent associations must conform to NSNA bylaws in regard to purpose and function, membership, representation to NSNA meetings and dues by submitting the Official Application for NSNA Constituency Status at the annual NSNA Convention each spring.

Constituency Status: NSNA constituency status shall be issued on a yearly basis according to the requirements in the NSNA Bylaws. Constituency status will only be granted once a year, and will be in conjunction with Delegate Credentialing (June 1982 Board of Directors). State officers will be responsible for signing and submitting the NSNA Official Application for Constituency Status for their respective states; school officers will be responsible for signing and submitting the NSNA Official Application for Constituency Status for their respective schools. (June 1991 Board of Directors).

State Minutes: State associations are required to submit approved, signed Board of Director and Annual Membership Meeting minutes to NSNA. Minutes may be submitted at www.bitly.com/nsnastatemin. NSNA will accept electronic submission via email of approved signed state minutes from the states in which this is acceptable by law; in states where electronic signatures are not acceptable by law, state associations may submit one signed hard copy and email the unsigned electronic file to NSNA. State minutes are distributed to NSNA Board members and staff. A copy of all state minutes is placed in the state association's official archives that are maintained by NSNA and must be made available upon request during the NSNA annual financial audit and IRS to validate NSNA dues collection for state associations. NSNA must have state approved and signed minutes for the entire previous calendar year by the first day of the NSNA Annual Convention. It is best when minutes are sent to NSNA immediately following approval.

State Bylaws

States are required to submit a current copy of their bylaws to NSNA annually. Any amendments must be submitted to NSNA, nsna@nsna.org as soon as amendments are made. State associations must submit bylaws through the Official Application for Constituency Status online: www.jotform.com/nsnainc/official-application-for-constituen

State Board Roster For State Board Dues Reimbursement

NSNA policy requires that NSNA hold state dues reimbursement payments based on the state association's convention dates until the newly elected Board of Director's roster is received at NSNA. Note that NSNA checks the roster to ensure that all elected and appointed members of the state Board are NSNA members. Link to State Roster Form <https://form.jotform.com/nsnainc/state-board-of-directors-r>

New: 990 Tax Return For Constituency Status

Beginning April 2, 2021 NSNA is requiring State Associations to submit a copy of their prior fiscal year's (or most recent) IRS 990 Tax Return to fully satisfy the NSNA state constituency requirements. (2017-2018 Board of Directors, April 2, 2018). Note that state associations that do not file the 990 IRS Tax Return for three consecutive years are in jeopardy of losing their incorporation status and will have to reapply which is costly and time-consuming.

IRS 501C3 And 501C6 Letter Of Determination And Articles Of Incorporation

NSNA is also requesting a copy of the state association's 501(c)3 or 501(c)6 IRS Letter of Determination and Articles of Incorporation for safekeeping (this is not mandatory at this time).

Practical/Vocational Nursing: Each NSNA state constituent association has the right to accept or reject participation in their activities by practical/vocational nursing students as long as their bylaws remain in conformity with NSNA.

Convention Proceedings: Upon request and payment of cost for duplicating and postage, states may receive the proceedings of the annual meeting.

Interstate Regional Activities: NSNA opposes interstate regional organizations because such organizations throughout the country would tend to divide rather than strengthen the association, and would place more demands upon state officers already involved with no definite promise of greater benefit to the membership (July 1968 Board of Directors).

Regional Conferences or Workshops: NSNA policy is to encourage state and local constituents to come together for the exchange of ideas through regional conferences or workshops.

Election Areas: The election areas are not another layer of NSNA structure, but rather a means of ensuring representation of students in all areas of the country at the national level, and also a means of facilitating the efforts of the Board of Directors and the Nominating and Elections Committee. See page 9 for the listing of areas.

Appendix F: 2022 School Delegate Information

The following explains the NSNA Constituency Application process and the role of Delegates at the Annual Meeting.

All school and state associations must submit the Official Application for NSNA Constituency Status (see page 38) online before they register for Delegate Credentialing for the Annual House of Delegates meeting. The Application must be submitted online annually.

When Constituents are notified that they have the required number of members to achieve constituency status (cutoff date is February 10, 2021), they are also informed about the number of Delegates they can send to represent the school in the NSNA House of Delegates. See NSNA Bylaws, Article VII, Section 3a (1) on page 30. Article VII Section 3a (2) states that the school chapter delegate(s) and alternate(s) shall be members in good standing in the chapter and shall be selected and/or elected by members of the school chapter at a proper meeting. Any school chapter requesting a state board of director as the alternate delegate must have written authorization with this request. The school chapter shall approve the appointment. Copies of the authorization must be brought to Delegate Credentialing. The school chapter requesting the alternate must have a member present at convention to act as the main delegate.

The Delegate Notification is emailed to the entire membership in March with the Official Constituency Status Report. The Delegate Information is also posted on NSNA's® Annual Convention website (click on Meetings). The webpage contains several items that must be read prior to the meeting. All Delegates must register for the convention and pay the appropriate convention registration fee.

The Delegate information on the website includes links to the following:

- Official Application for NSNA Constituency Status to be completed online, prior to Convention and Delegate Credentialing;
- Convention brochure and delegate information;
- Convention registration, delegate credentialing hours, and schedule for Delegates;
- Rules for NSNA Business Meetings, and Convention Rules and Procedures;
- Slate of Candidates

Delegate arrival in Salt Lake City, UT: By 9:00 am on Wednesday, April 6, 2022.

Delegate departure: any time after close of the House of Delegates, scheduled for Saturday, April 9, 2022. Please note that in the past, House meetings have been extended so that the business of the association could be completed.

Delegate Credentialing: The Schedule for Delegates will list the times for Delegate Credentialing. Please note that the delegate form is electronic. The delegate and alternate must come together to credentialing; each must show their convention badge, school ID (proof of enrollment), and membership card. If a school or state association that is eligible to have delegate representation in the House of Delegates is unable to send a delegate to convention, the school or state must still submit the requirements for Official NSNA Constituency Status. The online application must be completed no later than 10 business days after the close of the House of Delegates meeting. In this way, those states or schools eligible for certificates and prizes may achieve constituency status even though they were not able to send delegates to convention.

(NSNA Bylaws, Article VII, Section 6). Delegates or alternates have a responsibility to attend all House of Delegates meetings so that the business of the association can be transacted.

Parliamentary Procedure: Parliamentary Procedure will be used to conduct the business during the House of Delegates meeting. A working knowledge of Parliamentary Procedure will help the business meeting flow smoothly.

Motion Forms: Motion forms are available in the House of Delegates.

What is an NSNA Constituent?

An NSNA constituent is any state association or school chapter in a state approved program preparing students for licensure as registered nurses that meets the annual constituency requirements detailed below. Only NSNA constituents may be represented in the NSNA House of Delegates, and only NSNA constituents qualify for prizes and awards issued by NSNA. If you have any questions, please call NSNA (718) 210-0705.

How to Become an NSNA Constituent

PLEASE READ CAREFULLY

The Official Application for NSNA Constituency Status must be completed and submitted online annually prior to the Annual Convention. It must be completed and submitted online before you can credential to become a delegate for the Annual House of Delegates meeting. For those school and state associations unable to send representatives to the Annual House of Delegates meeting, the Application must be completed online no later than 10 working days after the close of the House of Delegates meeting of the same year. The 2022 House of Delegates closes on April 9, 2022.

Schools become NSNA constituents when they submit the Official Application for NSNA Constituency Status (the "Application") and membership data verifies a minimum of 10 NSNA members at the school on a date 8 weeks prior to the first meeting of the annual House of Delegates, February 9, 2022. Schools with enrollment under 10 must notify the NSNA office directly with a letter of verification by the dean or director of the program. These schools must have 100 percent of their enrollment as NSNA members to become NSNA constituents. States become NSNA constituents when they submit the Application and membership data verify that at least two schools in the state have NSNA constituency (except Guam where only one school currently exists). NSNA must also have a copy of the current state bylaws on file and the state association's approved and signed board of directors and annual membership meeting minutes for the entire previous calendar year (2020). The Application contains the areas of conformity listed in the bylaws. By submitting this, states and schools agree to abide by these areas of conformity by incorporating them into their own bylaws.

Elected school officers are responsible for signing and submitting the Application. Elected state officers sign and complete the Application for their state. State officers cannot sign Applications for schools in their state unless they are also an elected school officer. Applications signed by faculty will be returned for appropriate signature.

State Constituency

Requirements for NSNA constituency status must be met annually. Only official state associations may seat delegates in the House of Delegates, be reimbursed for state dues, and be eligible to win NSNA awards. For more information, visit <https://www.nсна.org/state-association-resources.html>. State Association must submit the following:

- Official Application for Constituency Status

- NSNA reviews all state files to ensure that states are in compliance. State Presidents will be informed about their areas of non-compliance and given an opportunity to resolve the situation prior to the NSNA Annual Convention and possible NSNA Board action.

Delegate Representation

Each school chapter that is a recognized constituent will be entitled to one voting delegate and alternate to the national convention. In addition, each school constituent will be entitled to an additional delegate and alternate for each 50 members. For example:

Approved by the NSNA Board of Directors on February 12, 2006

Make a Great Impression!

NSNA meetings are a great opportunity to meet and mingle with nursing leaders, fellow students, and prospective employers. They are also a perfect opportunity for NSNA members to display their professionalism – in what they say, how they say it, and how they look.

The 2005-06 NSNA Board of Directors developed a Code of Conduct for NSNA Meetings. Item five under Meeting Etiquette states that “Professional business attire or business casual attire is acceptable style of dress for professional meetings.” The following suggestions are provided as guidelines for professional business/business casual attire.

Professional Business Attire...

Women

- Suit; or jacket with pants or skirt; or tailored dress (skirt or dress at or below knee)
- Blouse
- Shoes—comfortable low heeled pumps, loafers or boots
- Simple jewelry

Men

- Suit—or jacket and slacks
- Shirt— traditional shirt with collar
- Tie
- Socks (of course)
- Dress Shoes & Matching Belt

Business Casual Attire...

- Shirt with collar or polo style
- Slacks
- Chinos or Dockers—pressed
- Skirts
- Blazer or sweater
- Loafers or lace-up shoes

Not considered Business Casual...

- T-Shirts
- Jeans
- Shorts
- Mini-skirts
- Flip flops, sneakers, or sandals
- Athletic wear or leggings
- Bare midriffs or low-cut garments (back or front)

Accessories can add a special touch of color, texture, and pattern to your outfit and are considered a complementary part of both business professional and business casual attire. Also, if you wear fragrance, keeping it light and minimal is recommended in a professional setting to be considerate of others you meet who may be sensitive to chemicals.

Remember to shake hands, smile, and introduce yourself to new friends and old acquaintances. Exchange business cards (however, remember to use caution when giving out personal information such as home address, phone number, and email address) and keep a file of contacts for future networking.

At the end of the conference, you'll be ready to schedule any interviews you'll want to make with exhibitors; accept speaking engagements at state and school chapters; and attend meetings of professional nursing organizations. You've made a lasting first impression on your peers and the many business and nursing professionals you have met. You are on your way to a very successful nursing career!
